porters know that he is the depository of a volume of delicious things. He keeps away from men as a rule, for the directors of some of the foreign air circulations keep their eyes on him. Circumstances and silence is his motto, and rule of conduct.

I believe as a rule he dies early. But the imputation recently made that he girls poison him with canned lobsters when he has obtained all their secrets is without foundation, at least the lobster part, and whatever else they may be, the girls are not barbarians and would not have resort to such a vile device as that when each one of them carries Forster's solution in her reticule.

My own impression is that, when satiated with the idle luxury of dumb appetites and purged by the bitter hatred and envy of his own sex, he goes quietly up to the rambles and commits suicide.

But as it may, the introduction of the dumfeeder into the polite night life of the metropolis is working a quiet revolution. Under the guise of ostentatious and vulgar girl is getting to like cheap champagne. Few means has been devised to get an application from a Murray Hill "gang" or a Madison avenue coterie, "Can we borrow your old man to-night for a toot at Del's?"

But you can't take this will break up the beautiful spirit of independence that animated the darlings when they commenced. These old married fellows will insist on paying the bills, and so far there has not been an advanced girl with stamina enough to resist that part of it. So I am afraid that the admirable womanly self-reliance will all depart from the movement and in the end the worthy professional dumfeeder will find his bread and his sweetbread taken away from these wretched and bloated amateurs.

NYM CRINKLE.

"Am delighted with Tongalene; it is the best remedy for neuralgia," he says. Wald Howard, M. D., Boonville, Mo., and physicians generally have warmest words of praise for this almost infallible remedy for neuralgia, rheumatism and headache. For ladies subject to nervous, neuralgic or sick headache Tongalene has no equal.

Silver Leaf Baking Powder.

Never fails when the directions are followed, hence there is never a word of complaint heard against it. The inexperienced cook is able to make as good bread with it as the professional baker, simply because the ingredients are so compounded as to make failure impossible when the directions are followed; a trial is all that is necessary to make it indispensable to all well-regulated households.

For fresh vegetables go to Turner & McClure's.

The Congressional Committee.

Was highly pleased with our city and the prospects of the future, especially the fact that of the gigantic furniture establishment of Pinkard & Joyce.

Honey Grove.

Honey Grove, Tex., May 8.—The handsome stone building of H. H. Benson, a Co., on the west side of the square, is about completed. They will probably occupy same by the 15th inst.

Our city has some of the finest stone buildings in the state. Fifteen new stone business houses are being erected now, all of which would be a credit to any town in the state.

Mrs. J. T. Buzar after a long spell of sickness is able to be up. H. Myers of this city is to be married to a Miss Lena of Sherman soon.

The Honey Grove silver cornet band, "best in the state," and under the leadership of the most accomplished band leader of the state, H. C. Cox, leave for Galveston on Monday, the 10th inst., to make music for the celebration of the Bremen's annual state convention.

Mr. M. P. Hudson, leader of the Honey Grove string band, went to Sherman yesterday to help the Sherman boys.
